

Great Ormond Street Hospital

Part of the famous Great Ormond Street Children's Hospital complex, The Institute of Child Healthcare is internationally renowned for development, skills and training in the field of paediatric medicine. Their in-house lecture theatres have previously featured large, obtrusive high power cabinet speakers that have taken up too much space in these smaller areas and have suffered enormously from microphone feedback.

By replacing these conventional cabinet speakers with i-ceilings Metal Sound Panels, both the problems of space and feedback have been simply and effectively overcome.
